

My name is Taylor McFadden, and I was born and raised in the Syracuse area. I earned my Bachelor's degree in Political Science with a concentration in Pre-Law, along with minors in Philosophy and Criminology, from Le Moyne College. I am currently pursuing my Master of Business Administration with concentrations in Leadership and Management. Professionally, I serve as an Assistant Resident Support Services Coordinator at the Syracuse Housing Authority, where I provide social work support to individuals and families. Beyond my role, I volunteer on the Salvation Army's Young Leaders Advisory Board, where I collaborate with a diverse network of professionals dedicated to strengthening our community.

I am honored to join the Onondaga County/Syracuse Commission on Human Rights. My ultimate goal is to advance human rights and social justice by contributing to meaningful dialogue, taking action, and working alongside others who share this mission!
