

Lyla Hua is a paralegal/legal secretary and aspiring attorney committed to justice and systemic change. "We believe real change starts locally, right here in Syracuse. Through the Human Rights Commission, we're working to challenge inequality, amplify marginalized voices, and build a more just and inclusive community for all."

