AGNES MCCRAY

311 North Avenue, Apt. NG04, Syracuse, New York 13206
315 437-0106 Email: agnesmccray@gmail.com

Agnes McCray was born in the Caribbean and moved with her family to Syracuse when she was a child. Agnes says that she is a person with extravagant differences (she has cerebral palsy and uses an electric wheelchair) and is the proud mother of three sons. Agnes received her Associates Degree from Onondaga Community College, her Bachelor's Degree from Geneseo, and her Master's Degree in Special Education and Rehab Counseling from LeMoyne College. Despite her cerebral palsy, Agnes participated on the swim team in high school, and her hobbies in college included skydiving.

Prior to the historic legislation known as the Americans with Disabilities Act, Agnes McCray was a force for change. In 1986, while still a teenager, Agnes was among a group of protestors who chained themselves to Centro buses to demand accessibility. Her involvement in ARISE's Youth on the Move Advocacy group from 1986 to 1991 was just the beginning of an extraordinary life of community action, advocacy, education, and service. She was active during her teen years in other efforts, including the College for Living at Onondaga Community College. At the age of 19, Agnes accepted an invitation to speak at Grant Middle School about being a person with disabilities.

Agnes understands the importance of civic engagement and meets regularly with elected officials. Agnes also knows when more than a meeting is required. During the past 11 years, she has participated in more than 300 protests and advocacy trips. One of those protests (and one of her arrests) involved joining with other activists from around the nation to block every entrance to the Capitol building.

One example of the fruits of her local efforts was passage of the Visitability resolution in Syracuse and Onondaga County. She is now working to get a statewide visitability law passed. Other legislative efforts involve working for passage of the Protection of Income bill, so tenants are not discriminated against based upon their source of income; ADA Title II bill, to ensure access to state and local government (currently only a federal law); and Accessible Taxi bill, to ensure that people with disabilities have access to on demand transportation.

In addition to providing training and guidance for people within the disability community, Agnes makes a difference by training government workers. For the past several years, Agnes has provided training to state workers as well as local workers. She teaches them about the Americans with Disabilities Act and about working with people who have "extraordinary differences". Her training for workers in group homes is a vital part of ensuring that people with physical and intellectual disabilities are protected from abuse. During the trainings, Agnes also offers guidance on making connections in the community for people with disabilities. Her trainings have been videotaped to be used throughout New York State.

Agnes worked for three years to insist upon and secure the appointment of an ADA Coordinator for Onondaga County to assure compliance and to receive and process complaints. In addition to the creation of the coordinator position, she works on a continuing basis to provide training to DSS workers so that they not only comply with the law but understand how best to work with people who have disabilities. As a result of her efforts, Onondaga County is now recognized for the way they do this work.

Many positive outcomes have resulted from Agnes' advocacy work, starting with the decision by Centro to make buses accessible. She has played a vital role in ensuring that people of all abilities are able to exercise their right to vote, and has worked closely with the Board of Elections to address every aspect of the process. Many changes were made in process and in the actual voting machines as a result of her advocacy. On an ongoing basis, she trains election workers on working with people who have disabilities. She is frequently active in voter registration efforts.

Agnes serves on numerous boards, task forces, advisory groups, and her advice is sought by community leaders. She has served on the Mayor's Citizen's Cabinet and was a member of County Executive Mahoney's Education Task Force. Agnes served for five years on the board of the Association of New York State Independent Living Centers and was extremely active in legislative and advocacy on a statewide level. She worked with the Burton Blatt Institute to address disability rights issues, and served on the Board of Directors of Aurora of CNY for 9 years.

Agnes has been active with ARISE since 1986 and has played numerous roles in the organization. She currently serves as President of the Consumer Council and is a member of both the Vice President of the ARISE board of directors and the ARISE Foundation board, and is also a member of the board of HOME Inc., the Syracuse Community Health Center, the Inclusive Emergency Preparedness Task Force and Human Needs Task Force hosted by AccessCNY, the Centro ATAC Committee, and the AURORA Program Advisory Committee.

Agnes has received numerous awards for her efforts:

- 2012 Liberty Bell Award from Onondaga County Bar Association
- 2007 Presidential Volunteer of the Year Award from United Way of CNY, recognizing more than 5,000 hours of volunteer service to ARISE
- 2006 New York State Achiever's Award from the NYS Senate
- 2005 Al Felment Achievement Award from Cerebral Palsy Associations of NY
- 2004 Thomas Rigney Participant Recognition Award from Enable

Other Relevant Information -

Agnes' keen intellect, command of complex issues, and tireless efforts have led to a widespread recognition of her as a spokesperson for the disability rights movement in this community and beyond. Agnes has worked to expand the rights of people with disabilities by sharing her time and expertise in extraordinary ways. It is no exaggeration to say that she has spoken on thousands of occasions since then to increase awareness, demand change, and to invite people of all abilities to become involved. Agnes believes deeply in the right of every person to live a life of independence and choice. She works to create a society that offers everyone the opportunity to fully participate.

Because of Agnes, people with disabilities in Syracuse and Onondaga County have gained greater access to the community. From the decision by Centro to make buses accessible to a visitable ordinance passed in Syracuse that requires all new housing built with public funds to be built with accessible features, she has enriched our community by making sure it is more accessible to all. Agnes talks often about being able to look outside of the box, and has herself been instrumental in making people forget about the box entirely.

Agnes believes deeply in human rights, civil rights, and justice. Whenever there is a situation involving denial of access to rights for whatever reason Agnes will be there to join in the fight.

Serving as emcee of the ADA Celebration in 2012, Agnes spoke about the power of working together.

If you are holding one pencil in your hand, it is easy to snap it in two. But if you have five, seven or ten pencils in your hand, you are not going to break them. She often tells people tough times don't last, but tough people do.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE COUNTY LEGISLATURE OF THE COUNTY OF ONONDAGA, AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. Purpose.

To amend the Onondaga County Charter and the Administrative Code to limit the number of consecutive terms that a person may serve as County Executive, and to limit the number of consecutive terms that a person may serve as County Comptroller.

A local law establishing term limits for the offices of the Onondaga County Executive and the Onondaga County Comptroller was passed by a majority vote of the Onondaga County Legislature at the July 7, 2026 session. The County Executive held a duly noticed public hearing on July 15, 2026 prior to deciding on the local law. The County Executive is of the opinion that the local law was vetoed. The majority of the County Legislature are of the opinion that the local law was approved. These positions are central to the dispute that has been in litigation. The County Executive and the County Legislature were poised to intervene in that litigation. In an effort to advance the best interests of the County and to resolve the dispute, the parties to that lawsuit, the County Executive, and the County Legislature agreed by a Stipulation in which this Local Law is introduced, voted on by the County Legislature, and presented to the County Executive, to render the prior local law supplanted by this Local Law.
